

PSAT Services & Packages

PSAT prep is ideal for providing the student with a thorough introduction to the PSAT structure, test-taking methods and important strategies. It will also address any initial imbalances between the student's English and Math performance, and any foundational deficiencies in topics like algebra, geometry, vocabulary, grammar, etc.

Choose from our various services and packages to prepare for the PSAT.

Privates

$125/hour

We offer one-to-one private tutoring. These private sessions for the PSAT offer the student the ability to progress at his or her own pace while building a trusting and comfortable rapport with the tutor.

PSAT Final Review Class

$145/student

Get focused for test-day by reviewing methods for more complex problems, time-saving strategies and most frequently asked questions on the PSAT.

• Sun., Oct. 8, 2016 4:00p - 7:30p

FAQs on the PSATs

WHAT IS THE PSAT?

This is a standardized test offered by College Board that provides first hand practice for the SAT. It also gives Juniors the chance to enter National Merit Scholarship programs.

HOW DOES IT DIFFER FROM SAT?

- ✓ The PSAT is slightly shorter than the SAT and takes 2hrs 50min to complete.
- ✓ PSAT has no Essay section.
- ✓ Max score per section is 760.
- ✓ PSAT scores are not reported to Colleges.

SHOULD I PREP FOR PSAT?

While it is not necessary to prepare for the PSAT (since those scores will not be used in your college applications) here are some reasons why you may want to do so:

- ✓ It provides an initial assessment of strengths and weaknesses for the upcoming SATs.
- ✓ Juniors have the chance to enter the National Merit Scholarship Competition, which can be a source of financial aid to those who score in the top percentiles.
- ✓ Some high schools might use PSAT scores for course placement.
